

What is the Speakers' Bureau?

Several of CRG's clinical providers offer presentation and/or professional training services through our recently developed Speakers' Bureau. The Speakers' Bureau is designed to deliver the most current clinical research and best practice information to assist physicians, mental health professionals, educators and families in providing relevant, high-quality care. Some of our many presentation topics include:

- Autism Spectrum Disorders in Children
- ADHD Across the Lifespan
- Disability Documentation / Transition to College
- Functional Communication for Nonverbal Students

The Speakers' Bureau is multidisciplinary and includes psychiatrists, clinical psychologists, a therapist, school psychologist, postsecondary disability specialist, and assistive technology specialist. Together, our providers combine years of experience with current research data to provide an array of services such as diagnostic assessment, pharmacological management, therapy, and educational services. They specialize in working with people of all ages who have learning disorders (such as LD, nonverbal LD, ADHD and Asperger's), mood disorders (such as depression, anxiety and OCD), or other issues that complicate healthy, productive lives.

Continue reading to learn more about the providers, topics and types of professional services available through CRG's Speakers' Bureau.

Providing Psychological, Psychiatric and Educational Services to Children, Adolescents and Adults

9106 N. Meridian St., Suite 100
Indianapolis, IN 46260

Phone: (317) 575-9111

Fax: (317) 571-4470

www.childrensresourcegroup.com

CRG Speakers' Bureau

*We bring knowledge,
hands-on experience,
and a caring commitment to promoting healthy lives within your school, office or organization.*

Contact CRG to coordinate a presentation by a member of our Speakers' Bureau:

David R. Parker, Ph.D.

Postsecondary Disability Specialist &
Professional Development Coordinator

Ph: (317) 575-9111 Ext. 146
dparker@childrensresourcegroup.com

Meet our Speakers...

Many of CRG's providers are available for speaking engagements or professional development/training events. We bridge the gap between current scientific knowledge and daily clinical care. If you or your group would like to retain one of our providers as a presenter for your next event or gathering, please contact:

Dr. David Parker

Phone: 317-575-9111 Ext. 146

Email: dparker@childrensresourcegroup.com

Dr. Parker will work with you to identify a CRG speaker, coordinate logistics and payment and, if desired, help you shape your agenda. The provider will then contact you to finalize discussions in order to tailor the presentation to your specific needs.

Presentation Formats and Associated Costs*:

1 hour talk	$300
3 hour workshop	$600
6 hour training	$1000

Presentation fees may vary depending on the providers and times requested.*

Psychologists & Therapists

Janel Burchfield, Psy.D., HSPP,
Sandra Burkhardt, Ph.D., ABPP, HSPP
Christine Kerr, Ph.D., LMHC
Dennis Ray Kinder, Ph.D., HSPP
Nathan Larson, Psy.D., HSPP
Julie Steck, Ph.D., HSPP

Our psychologists and therapists are available for both informal talks and formal presentations. Areas of expertise include ADHD across the lifespan, anxiety disorders, autism spectrum disorders, bipolar and mood disorders, cognitive disabilities, dyslexia, non-verbal learning disorders and parenting issues.

Psychiatrists

Joshua Lowinsky, M.D.

Jason Rowland, M.D.

CRG's psychiatrists are available to speak about the medical treatment options for several disorders including ADHD, autism spectrum disorders and bipolar spectrum disorders. Dr. Rowland's areas of expertise include child and adolescent psychiatric disorders, specifically autism spectrum disorders. Dr. Lowinsky is highly experienced in giving presentations about comorbidity and neurobiological issues.

Educational Specialists

David Parker, Ph.D.

Postsecondary Disability Specialist

Beth Waite, MA-CCC/SLP-ATP

Assistive Technology Specialist

Nancy Lindhjem, Ed.S., NCSP

School Psychologist

Dr. Parker, CRG's Postsecondary Disability Specialist, works with adolescents and adults at the high school and college levels. He is available for presentations, training workshops and consultations regarding topics such as ADHD coaching, disability documentation for college services, learning strategies/study skills and transition to college.

Beth Waite, our Assistive Technology (AT) Specialist, provides individualized AT services to children, teens and adults. She specializes in AT and Autism, AT training, functional communication for nonverbal students, and the use of personal technology for greater organization or academic success.

Transition to College Services

Julie Steck, Ph.D., David Parker, Ph.D., Nancy Lindhjem, Ed.S., and Beth Waite, MA-CCC/SLP-ATP collaboratively present the "Taste of College" workshop. Our team conducts this half-day workshop in your school, office, or agency. The workshop can be customized to meet the needs of high school students with disabilities and/or those who work with them (special education teachers, parents, transition specialists, students, administrators). The workshop consists of four sessions that provide "best practice" information, strategies, and resources. Request this workshop for your professional development needs, as a part of your students' transition programming, or to learn more as a parent/student gearing up for the college search.

Topics include:

- Different Paths to Postsecondary Education: What's Right for You?
- Using Personal Technology to Learn, Communicate, and Stay Organized
- What the Meyers-Briggs Tells Students about Choosing a College Major
- Academic Services/Accommodations in College: What Do I Need to Know?

Please contact Dr. Parker for additional information regarding scheduling and fees for any of these topics or speakers.

To learn more about our clinical providers, please visit our website at www.childrensresourcegroup.com